

COFFEE TABLE

Eternally Warm.

Coffee needs to be hot and that's that. Tramontina supports this undisputable fact with a hot-tempered contribution in the form of a cappuccino set whose high-grade stainless steel cups are comparable to thermos flasks. The air between the double walls serves to insulate and keep the cups cool on the outside while the cappuccino remains hot for a long time. As if that weren't enough, these cups come with another pretty hot asset in the form of coasters made from dark Wengé wood whose grain makes each coaster one of a kind.

Exquisite design that delivers excellent taste. Straight to the lips.

Perfect Porcelain.

Drinking Nespresso has always been an aesthetically pleasing experience. To further enhance the pleasure Nespresso provides, renowned French designer Olivier Gagnère has recently created the ultimate premium cup. Gagnère, whose designs have already found entrance to museums such as the MOMA in New York or the Centre Pompidou in Paris, set himself the task of creating a cup that would perfectly express the famous quality and fine aroma of Nespresso. He succeeded so well that it can only be a matter of time until his cups with their sophisticated outlines and their red or aubergine-coloured circles will also be found in an exhibition of sublime design pieces.

Touch me!

There's no denying that coffee aficionados appreciate sensual experiences. Why then ought they restrict themselves to treating only their olfactory nerves and taste buds to something special? After all, there's also a lot of pleasure to be derived from visual and tactile impressions. The "Coffeemia Collection" doesn't owe its design awards to its simple and elegant look alone. The "touch!" porcelain coating combines the china with a textile surface, stimulating the user's sense of touch at every contact and adding an entirely new dimension to drinking coffee. You've got to feel it to believe it!

Still Waters Run Deep.

Really cute, the small green frog that scales the rim of the espresso cup, isn't it? And there's more to the delightful design than meets the eye. Japanese architect Toyo Ito is a fan of designed nature and the saucer symbolises a round garden pond on whose surface concentric circles seem to spread with the cup itself being the innermost circle. And the kaeru – Japanese for "frog" – was responsible for setting the whole thing in motion. Truly, coffee can be enjoyed in more ways than (the traditional) one...
