

Seasons Greetings from Legendary Ski Destinations. ❄️

FILZMOOS

Not far from Salzburg, visitors to Austria's Filzmoos ski resort should be sure not to miss the legendary cuisine of top chef Joanna Meier. Together with her husband Dietmar, Meier runs the Hotel Hubertus, and has received four Gault Millau toques (19 points) and two Michelin stars since she took charge of the kitchen in 1984. Nestled at the foot of the Dachstein glacier and Bischofsmütze Mountain, the charming chalet also offers luxury accommodations, spa facilities, cooking classes, wine tasting, and Nespresso.

After a day of hiking, skiing, or snowboarding against the backdrop of the impressive Mont Blanc, guests at Megève's charming Fermes de Marie can indulge in the simple pleasures of life. Traditional Savoy farmhouses and chalets have been converted into luxury accommodations combining traditional décor with modern conveniences including Nespresso machines. The three restaurants serve the freshest regional ingredients, and the complete wellness and fitness centre includes a luxurious range of spa treatments.

ARLBERG

The picturesque town of Lech Zürs in the westernmost state of Austria is a favourite destination of VIPs in search of extensive Arlberg ski opportunities, exquisite dining, and a lively après-ski scene. Enjoy a Nespresso during your stay at the five-star Hotel Gasthof Post Lech run by the family Moosbrugger for the past 70 years. The historical "Post" is minutes away from the lifts and combines rustic allure with legendary hospitality, a wellness centre, and Michelin-starred cuisine.

HEMSEDAL

Host to the 1994 Winter Olympics, Norway is credited with introducing skiing to the world. Indeed, the word "ski" derives from Old Norse referring to a split piece of firewood originally used to facilitate transportation in the snow-covered landscape. At 1000 m, the Skarsnuten Hotel is a short distance from spectacular fjords, glaciers and waterfalls. Enjoy the view – and a Nespresso – at the boutique hotel that integrates the elements of nature into its Scandinavian design.

A horse-drawn carriage will bring you to the Grand Hotel Zermatterhof in the Matterhorn's famed car-free health resort and mountain village. At 1620 m, the idyllic village in the Swiss Valais is the ideal starting-point to witness stunning Alpine landscapes: glacial rivers and up to 4000 m peaks. Living up to its name since it was opened in 1879, the Grand Hotel Zermatterhof offers five-star luxury including Nespresso in all its suites.

ASPEN

The legendary ski town in the heart of the Colorado Rockies is a former mining town that was transformed in the mid-1940s into a resort designed to renew "mind, body and spirit". Just steps away from the Silver Queen Gondola that travels to the top of Aspen Mountain is the Little Nell, Aspen's only ski-in, ski-out property. The 92-room luxury hotel features a complete health club and exquisite dining and wine at its acclaimed Montana Restaurant.

With peaks of some 3000 m, the Hakuba Mountain Range, also known as the Northern Japanese Alps, is home to some of the most famous ski resorts in Japan and was the backdrop for the 18th Winter Olympic Games hosted by Nagano in 1998. Hotel Mominoki is located at the base of the mountains at the Hakuba ski resort area. For the ultimate after-ski relaxation, try the in-house "onsen" (natural spring baths).

ST MORITZ

St Moritz is synonymous with glamour, and is also considered the birthplace of organized winter sports events in the Alps. No better place to ease into the season's highlights than with a glass of bubbly from Badrutt's Palace Hotel. Opened in 1896, this mecca for high society is named for the family that has run the St Moritz landmark for generations. The hotel has every amenity imaginable including a ski school, a disco, and even a cinema.

CORTINA

A relaxing visit to the Cristallo Palace will crown any holiday to the "Queen of the Dolomites", also known as Cortina d'Ampezzo, which hosted the Winter Olympics in 1956. The complete wellness centre is fittingly located in a century-old palace nestled in the mountainous surroundings whose stunning beauty has frequently starred as a backdrop to major films.
